BETHEL BUILDER HONORED WITH PRESTIGIOUS HOBI AWARD
2009 “Best Remodeled Home $500-$750,000”

Bethel, CT, December 3, 2009. Peter Schneider, Builder – Contractor, Inc., has been awarded a prestigious Home Building Industry “HOBIAward” by the Home Builders Association of CT (HBACT). Competing with the association’s approximately 1400 member firms, Schneider has earned this year’s award for “Best Remodeled Home $500-$750,000.”

The HBACT is an association that represents and advances the interests of the home building, remodeling and land development industries. Members are known for their dedication to quality and excellence in their craft. The organization was founded in 1947.

The annual HOBI Awards, currently in its 16th year, is the state’s most prestigious home building industry program. Member firms are encouraged to submit their best work from the previous year, and compete against their peers. Awards recognize excellence in home design and construction, superior quality, detailing and execution, remodeling, commercial construction, and land development.

Having founded his business in 1984, this is the 4th HOBI awarded to Schneider. Compared with other contests, the HOBI’s are particularly meaningful to the builder. “The HOBI’s are awarded by a state-wide panel of judges who are your peers,” explains Schneider. “They know the realities and challenges of the business. They recognize creative solutions, fine workmanship and customer service at all price points, not just in the multi-million dollar projects.” When asked about this particular endeavor, Schneider continues, “Custom Building and the major remodels we do are very intimate collaborations... This award isn’t a result of just my efforts. The designer Stacy Keany, the owners Peter & Elaine Daubner, and myself all worked together to craft the final design & specification of the project. It was truly a team collaboration. Bringing the concept to life is always much easier when a clear vision and sense of responsibility is shared by all the parties involved.”

“It’s always important to celebrate great design and craftsmanship, but even more so in difficult economic times,” said Joanne Carroll, producer of the HOBI Awards, editor of Connecticut Builder magazine, president of JMC Resources, Inc., and board member of the Home Builders Association of Connecticut (HBACT), which sponsors the awards. “HBA members are doing extraordinary work across Connecticut, and it’s important to ... recognize the skill and effort that goes into these beautiful homes.”

Schneider recently earned the Certified Green Professional, Certified Graduate Remodeler, and Certified Graduate Builder designations from the National Association of Home Builders. He can be reached at 203-743-5548, or peter@PeterSchneiderBuilder.com.
